

October 25th, 2020

Just a reminder that, until we can upgrade our internet service, we will be suspending our live-streaming of the services. They will be uploaded after the service to the GraceCommunity Church YouTube page and FB page later in the day.

Operation Christmas Child Shoebox Collection:

Our Wednesday Night KidMin Programs are packing shoeboxes and need your help! We are accepting donations of shoeboxes (cardboard or plastic) and contents to fill them by Nov 8.

- The list of needed items is at shoebox table in foyer. If you like to fill shoeboxes, please bring them by Nov. 18.
- You may also donate money toward shipping or contents, please mark your check/envelope and place in offering or give to Alisha Webb, 785-844-2316.

We would like to make sure our database has the correct information. Please help us ensure yours is correct? This is something you can conveniently do right on your phone with the Church Center app if you would like. Simply open the app, click the circle at the top Right, then click your name to open the information page. when you update on your phone it updates our database. (also when you register for camps or events, it automatically inputs your info for you! woo hoo!

TAKES A BREAK
THIS WEEK!

High School students are welcome to join Book Club as we go through Ray Pritchard's book He's God, We're Not.

We meet every other Sunday Morning @ 9:15

Conversation has been really great so far and will only get better. A digital copy on Amazon is only $2 or hardcopies of the book are around $5 or less.

BOOK CLUB MEETS AGAIN Nov 1st @ 9:15 (upstairs)

Well, It's...Going"

What it is: This week's big meme was "How It Started vs. How It's Going." Participants post a photo or screenshot of how a relationship, a job, or even the year in general started and contrast it with a photo or screenshot of where things are now, or even how things ended.

Why it's the human experience in a nutshell: Most of the popular memes of 2020 so far have had one thing in common: they reflect, with a shrug and a smile, on our expectations versus how reality plays out. Nearly every human relationship and experience starts more hopefully than it ends because we live in a broken world. But sometimes, smaller moments we would never expect can define the ways that bigger ones shake out. Time spent practicing a sport we love can lead to a championship trophy, or a casual comment made over text message can lead to the love of our lives. In addition to being funny, this meme gets bonus points for encouraging posters to reflect with earnestness and sincerity on the threads that stitch our lives together.

GRACEKIDS

DID YOU KNOW

- 2/3 of Christians came to faith before the age of 18.
- 43% came to Christ before the age 12.

Children's ministry is crucial to our church and we can't do it without everyone helping. Right now, we are looking for people to join on Sunday morning team to make sure our KidMin continues.

Here are KidMin service areas needing more help:

Snack Team: Volunteers help set out snacks for the kids before service begins.

Host: Volunteers are stationed at our check-in counter to greet families as they arrive and assist them as they use the iPad and Computers.

Group Leader: Volunteers assist the Worship Leader and Bible Teacher throughout the morning while spending time with the kids.

Bible Teacher: Volunteers will lead children through an energy packed, Gospel filled worship/learning experience learning about God and His Word.

Come find me this Sunday to find your best fit!
